TAFT LAUDS PRESENT SECRET SERVICE MEN

McKinley Probably Would Have Been in Existence, He Says.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.-Speaking of Secret Service guards for the Presi-dent, former President Taft said in his second lecture at Columbia University, that the assassination of President Mc-Kinely would probably have been prevented if the present system had ther been in force.

'Assassination of three Presidents led Congress to make provision for Becret Service guards," Mr. Taft said. "While President I was never conscious of any personal anxiety in large crowds, get Congress would have been quite derellet if it had disregarded the recderelict if it had disregarded the record.

"Those guards are a great burden to the President. He can never go anywhere that he does not have to inflict their presence upon those he wishes to visit. It is a litle difficult for him to avoid the feeling after awhile that he is under surveillance rather than under protection.

"The Secret Service men are level-headed, experienced and of good manners, and they are wise in their methods. If a person is determined to kill a President and is willing to give up his life for it, no such protection will save him, but desperate persons of this kind are very rare. The worst danger is from those who have lost part or all of their reason.

"Under the practice now pursued in a public reception, a man with his hand in his pocket would not be permitted to approach within striking or shooting distance of the President. His holding a revolver under his handkerchief in his pocket would be detected long before he could ket within reach of the object of his perverted purpose. He would find the hand of the Secret Service man thrust into the pocket to find what his own was doing there. Had this been done in the case of the assassin of President McKinley at Buffalo, that tragedy would not have occurred."

Mr. Taft recommended in the lecture that members of the Cabinet be given access to the floor of each House in Congress, to introduce measures, advoite their passage, answer questioned enter into debate, without the righ

BRITON HONORED BY

Baron Reading, Lord High Chief Justice of England, Sits in Bench.

The unusual sight of a visitor citting Kinley Probably Would Have beside the Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court greeted litigania and visitors at the Capitol yesterday. the strange figure being Baron Read ing, lord high chief justice of England. This is the third time in the memory of members of the court that such an honor has been accorded a visitor. Lord Chief Justice Coleridge sat with the court, when visiting this country in 1883, and Lord High Chancellor Herschell was similarly honored in 1899. Haron Reading was at court for about an hour and a half, and heard most of the argument in a suit attaching the constitutionality of the North Dakota tax on express receipts.

An unusual case was beard by the An unusual case was heard by the Supreme Court yesterday when arguments were made attacking the power exercised by immigration officials in excluding persons from this country on the grounds that industrial conditions are bad in the city of their desination. The suit was brought in behalf of two Russians who were denied admission, because they wanted to go to Portland Ore., at a time when many men were out of work there.

STRAIN OF WAR WELL

Many Industries Hard Hit, However, Says Consul General Halstead in Report.

"Taking everything into considera-tion, it may be said that industrial Austria ended the year 1914 in a far stronger and sounder position than would have been expected when the war began."

This is a statement in a report from Consul General Albert Halstead on mar began."

This is a statement in a report from Consul General Albert Halstead on trade, industry, sand commerce of Austria, Hungary for the year 191.

It is understood from this report that Austria is by no means near the collapse of her resources.

Mr. Halstead says many industries were hard hit, but sacrifices were made cheerfully.

Some industries on the other hand, were immediately benefited by the war. Amoag these was the textile industry, the demands for the clothing of the army being overwhelming. Before hostilities, conditions in this industry had been unfavorable. Woolen knitted goods and jute ware factories are so busy they are obliged to work day and night.

The cotton branch of the textile industry was also benefited by large military orders.

Mr. Halstead says the munitions, builet, cap, and cannon factories worked at high pressure. They surfered nothing through want of copper, zinc, and tin. The iron and steel works got increased military orders. The petroleum industry was helped by the greater demand for oil, with the price almost double.

The coal industry found conditions favorable.

Luxuries and the trade therein suffered. The lumber industry, too, was adversely affected.

Mr. Halstead says that while food prices advanced considerably in 1914, rates, wrges, and the prices of the ordinary articles of merchandise remained the same.

The yield of the 1914 harvest was smaller than in 1913, and this with the abhormal demand for grain for the armies, caused an advance in prices not equaled in years.

The live stock industry enjoyed a materially enlarged market. The supply of herses was drawn on heavily, but their number was great.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Rich, of the Church of the Transfiguration. Later the couple went to Atlantic City by motor. The bride telephoned the news of her marriage to her mother before they started, and is not yet sure whether she will receive the parental blessing on her return, but friends predict that her parents will receive her with open arms. Daniels Heralds - New Era in Battleship Building As Callfornia Is Begun.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Oct. 14.-The keel

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Oct. 14.—The keel of the first battleship to be propelled entirely by electricity, was laid here today. The vessel is the new dreadnaught California, one of three authorized by the last Congress.

"The California," said Secretary Daniels, principal speaker, "will be the first battleship in the world to be propelled by electricity. The installation of the ejectric drive ushers in a new epoch in navigation, just as far-reaching and important as that in which steam succeeded sail power. The California will have a cruising radius 50 per cent greater than her sister ship. The combination of the electric drive and oil fuel will enable her to steam nine days longer or 2,350 miles farther than a coal-burning dreadnaught. In other words, the California will be able to steam nearly twice as far as the Wyoming or Arkansas.

"The California is coming into our navy at the time of the passing of coal and the substitution therefor of oil as fuel." It is a source of pride that the
